WELCOME STATEMENT FROM THE EAERE PRESIDENT

Dear EAERE friends and colleagues,

Welcome to the 29th Annual Conference of the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists!

It is with great pleasure that I welcome every one of you to this year's Conference in Leuven.

This year we received an all-time record of 1,533 submissions: a great success and a clear sign of increasing interest from a community that keeps growing over time. The record number of paper submissions and registrations led us to reach the Annual Conference venue's maximum capacity in early May, an unexpectedly positive result. To allow the widest possible participation and in a continued effort to be more inclusive and accessible, EAERE 2024 includes a rich set of sessions in a hybrid format so that participants can attend them remotely.

I am personally grateful to my colleagues at KU Leuven, Johan Eyckmans and Sandra Rousseau, who accepted the challenge of organising our Annual Conference at a time where hybridisation costs and organisational efforts are still quite demanding.

Our warmest gratitude goes also to Programme Committee co-chairs Enrica De Cian, Johan Eyckmans, Eric Nævdal, and Sandra Rousseau, who together with the Local Scientific Committee – Estelle Cantillon, Simon De Jaeger, Ingrid Molderez, Guido Pepermans, and Stef Proost, and with the important contribution of 357 referees, have prepared a rich scientific programme. Our gratitude goes also to our Association's Secretariat team for its constant and careful work for the execution of the Conference.

Please see our full conference programme which includes 564 accepted papers. The programme consists of plenary sessions, parallel paper sessions, egg-timers, 15 high-level policy sessions, 6 thematic sessions, a welcome reception, an informal social event, a 5K run and a conference dinner. This year we have prepared a variegated and interesting online programme. A rich programme of related events is also available. The programme includes two important association events: the session at which we will announce this year's awards and recognitions, and the General Assembly of Members. We are counting on everyone's participation to applaud and congratulate our outstanding colleagues and to shape our future priorities and strategies together.

EAERE is a growing community, and the interest and enthusiasm towards our activities is shown not only by our research community but also by the policy makers, as reflected in the panels of high-level representatives in our policy sessions. This year we will host a WCEREA coordinated session on Climate Change, Land-Use, and Biodiversity: this session is part of a series of sessions that are run in each of the regional Associations of Environmental and Resource Economists' Annual Conferences, and witnesses the fruitful collaboration which will finally culminate in the World Congress of Environmental and Resource Economists (WCERE) in 2026.

Thanks to the efforts of our Policy Outreach Committee (POC), the Programme includes an important Policy session that will see the cooperation of our Association with the IPCC and the European Commission to discuss expected content and relevance of the 7th IPCC Assessment Cycle, and potential contributions of environmental economists in the 7th Assessment Report.

Our POC has also worked on the organisation of a Policy Session on Just transition and the challenges of occupational and sectorial reallocation which addresses a particularly key issue for the future of the European climate policy: its capacity to reconcile the urgent need for a rapid ecological transition with the need to leave no one behind.

I would like to thank our Council Members, Carmen Arguedas, Enrica De Cian, Monica Eberle, Phoebe Koundouri, Åsa Löfgren, Linda Nøstbakken and Alessandro Tavoni: together we worked to ensure that this year's Conference meets our Association's high scientific and organisational standards.

I invite you to take part in our General Assembly of Members to be held on July 1st, from 16:00 to 17:30 CEST. Those members who are not attending the conference in person are warmly encouraged to participate online.

I wish you all a great time at EAERE2024.

Enjoy the Conference!
Simone Borghesi
EAERE President

WELCOME FROM THE LOCAL ORGANISING COMMITTEE

Dear participants from all over the world,

As environmental economists and long-standing members of EAERE and loyal participants in its annual conferences, we felt it was high time to bring the annual EAERE meeting to Belgium and Leuven. We are therefore enthusiastic to welcome all of you in Leuven for EAERE 2024 – the 29th Annual Conference of the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists!

Belgium and Flanders may be small in terms of area but they are large in terms of universities, R&D, and innovation. KU Leuven university, which celebrates its 600th anniversary in 2025, has a centuries-old tradition of ground-breaking research and high-quality education. The university is growing fast, both in quantity and quality. KU Leuven University is the highest-ranked non-US institution on the Reuters list of most innovative universities. The university town of Leuven lies in the core of Europe, 20 km from Brussels which is a center of international diplomacy, EU decision-making, corporate headquarters, and NGO activity.

Both KU Leuven university and the city of Leuven are focused on sustainability. KU Leuven has made sustainability a core value in recent years by incorporating it deeply into its strategic plans. It offers for example university-wide courses with a sustainability focus, it has integrated sustainability as an important criterion in its operations, and it is regionally, nationally, and internationally active in various networks focusing on sustainability. Likewise, the city of Leuven wants to become a climate-neutral city and is one of the 100 cities chosen by the European Commission for the '100 Climate-Neutral and Smart Cities by 2030' mission.

This year, we received a record number of approximately 1,500 paper submissions, along with many proposals for policy and thematic sessions. The conference venue can accommodate a maximum of 700 participants, a number comparable to the number of participants of the last two EAERE meetings. Because of high demand and limited capacity, registrations for in-person participation had to be closed early. But, in line with the EAERE Council's decision, we are also offering a substantial number of sessions in a hybrid format for our online registered participants. All policy and thematic sessions, as well as the three plenary sessions (which include the keynote speeches, the ERE Editorial Announcements, the Awards Announcements, and the Opening and Closing Sessions of the conference), will be available online.

Meanwhile, we are approaching rapidly the 1.5°C target that humanity put itself in the 2015 Paris Accord. Climate change does not pause. Besides rising temperatures and sea level rise, other environmental problems such as biodiversity loss, and air, water, and soil pollution are not yet fully under control worldwide. Addressing these complex problems requires also environmental economics knowledge and insights. That is exactly what the EAERE conference aims for by bringing together experts to understand the causes of the problems and to find and promote sustainable solutions. We wish you a stimulating conference and many enjoyable moments in Leuven!

On behalf of the Local Organising Committee
Johan Eyckmans and Sandra Rousseau

SUPPORTERS TO THE EAERE 2024 CONFERENCE

EAERE 2024 is generously supported by:

EUROPEAN INVESTMENT BANK (EIB)

The European Investment Bank (EIB) Group is the bank of the European Union and one of the largest providers of finance for climate action in the world. Since our establishment in 1958, the EIB has invested over a trillion euros in projects in Europe and countries worldwide. While climate action is a big part of our activities, we also focus on the environment, development, innovation and skills, small and medium-sized businesses (SMEs), infrastructure and cohesion. Our work extends beyond Europe to over 160 countries. Through EIB Global, which was set up in 2022 to increase the impact of our development finance, we help address global challenges and foster growth and opportunity all over the world.

The EIB is the EU climate bank. In 2023, it invested €49 billion in green finance. The Bank approach towards supporting EU climate policy is set out in its Climate Bank Roadmap 2021-2025. The Bank is delighted to be able to support this year's EAERE conference. As part of its reflections of developing the CBR beyond 2025, we hope that the EIB session on Climate Finance (policy session) will be an opportunity to learn from the panel and conference participants on ways in which the EIB can provide more impact in support to the EU Green Deal, in particular through the lens of a public bank seeking to leverage additional green investment.

NATIONAL BANK OF BELGIUM (NBB)

As a modern central bank at the heart of the Eurosystem, the National Bank of Belgium (NBB) serves the public interest. Its four core tasks are aimed at maintaining prosperity, providing certainty, and creating confidence. From its independent position and equipped with analyses, data, and research, the Bank participates in the public debate in a respectful, prudent, and socially responsible manner. Indeed, as a central bank, the NBB lies at the intersection of the country's economic and financial information, producing vital economic analyses and putting forward recommendations. It thereby puts the expertise built from its unique position at the service of society.

The National Bank of Belgium is proud to lend its support to EAERE 2024 in Leuven. Academic research in climate and environmental economics has a key role to play in furthering the understanding and management of climate and environmental risks. Moreover, economic thinking is of crucial importance to ensuring that the transition to climate neutrality occurs in the most cost-effective way.

His specific interest in ocean and fisheries was picked in Norway. Sumaila enjoys exploring novel ideas and mentoring future thinkers. He loves waking up each day thinking of how best to contribute to ensuring that we bequeath a healthy ocean to our children and grandchildren so they too can have the option to do the same.

KEYNOTE - 4 JULY 2024 (09:00 - 10:00 CEST, UCT+2)

DR. ANNE SOPHIE CRÉPIN

BEIJER INSTITUTE OF ECOLOGICAL ECONOMICS, ROYAL SWEDISH ACADEMY OF SCIENCES AND STOCKHOLM RESILIENCE CENTRE, STOCKHOLM UNIVERSITY, SWEDEN

“Long-term Wellbeing and Risks of Abrupt Changes - A Journey”

Anne-Sophie Crépin is the deputy director of the Beijer Institute of Ecological Economics and is a member of the Strategic Advisory Committee at the Stockholm Resilience Centre. Her research links scientific theories about the Anthropocene, regime shifts and economic dynamics and aims to answer mainly two broad questions. Firstly, in what way does the interplay between ecosystems and socioeconomic dynamics influence the risk of abrupt changes that could lower human well-being? Secondly, how can society deal with this risk in a way that sustains long-term human well-being? A substantial part of her work is based on small theoretical dynamic models that combine relevant economic factors with complex ecosystem dynamics. Recent publications also include more empirical studies and behavioral experiments. She obtained her Ph.D. in economics from Stockholm University. In 2003 she received the Arnberg Prize from the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PRESENTERS

PRESENTATION FORMAT

We kindly ask you not to bring your own laptop, but to bring your presentation on a USB-key, as a laptop (MS Windows environment) will be provided in all rooms. Changing laptops takes valuable time and might cause technical difficulties. Please note that there are no Macintosh computers available.

Supported presentation format is PowerPoint (format 16:9). Make sure to copy your presentation onto the laptop in the assigned room. The volunteers and chairs in the auditorium will assist you with this. Please save your presentation under the following file name to avoid confusion: EAERE2024_Last name_Session#

Please note that presentations should be given in English only.

Presentations can be uploaded during the break before your session in the room where your presentation will take place. We kindly ask you to be in the room 15 minutes before the start of your session. Please use this time to locate and present yourself to the chair of your session so they know you are present and your presentation can be uploaded.

ORGANISATION OF SESSIONS

Sessions will be 1 hour and 45 minutes. The time available for each paper is 25 minutes, of which 20 minutes are for the presentation and 5 minutes for the discussant's comments. Presenters should come to the room at least 10 minutes before the start of the session to allow time for the presentations to be copied to the computer. A conference assistant will be available near your room in case of technical difficulties. Please go to the assigned room well in advance so the chair of the session knows that you are present. Please respect your colleagues and keep to the allocated time for your presentation.

DISCUSSANTS

All presenters of regular papers are called upon to discuss a paper in the same session in which they present. Please note that discussants should provide comments and suggestions. They should NOT summarise the paper (that is the presenter's task). PowerPoint slides to support your comments are not expected but if preferred then please make sure to upload before the start of the session. More detailed comments can be passed on to the presenter after the session, preferably in written form. Please check the detailed conference programme when it becomes available in June to see of which paper you are the discussant.

SESSION CHAIRS

One person in each session is designated as the Session Chair; please check the detailed conference programme when it becomes available in the coming days to see if you are the Chair of your session. Chair persons should come to the room at least 10 minutes before the start of the session. Chairs should briefly introduce the session and the speakers, make sure the time available is divided equally and guide the discussion from the floor following each presentation. To see if you will be chairing your session please check the detailed conference programme when it becomes available in June. In the unlikely case where the scheduled chair does not attend, the presenter of the session's actual last paper is expected to take over the role of chair.

Any questions regarding these instructions and late cancellations should be sent to:
programme@eaere.org

INSTRUCTIONS FOR EGG-TIMER PRESENTERS

PRESENTATION FORMAT

We kindly ask you not to bring your own laptop, but to bring your presentation on a USB-key, as a laptop (MS Windows environment) will be provided in all rooms. Changing laptops takes valuable time and might cause technical difficulties. Please note that there are no Macintosh computers available.

We kindly ask you to be in the room 15 minutes before the start of your session. Please use this time to locate and present yourself to the chair of your session so they know you are present and your presentation can be uploaded.

ORGANISATION OF SESSIONS

The egg-timer sessions will run in parallel with paper presentation sessions. One person in each session is designated as the Session Chair; please check the detailed conference programme when it becomes available in the coming days to see if you are the Chair of your session. If you are, you will be in charge of time management. The time available for each egg-timer paper is 10 minutes of which 7 minutes are for the presentation and 3 minutes for general discussion. The tight schedule means strict time restrictions, so please respect your colleagues and keep to the allocated time for your presentation.

Here are some important guidelines to help make the egg-timer format work successfully:

- a. Seven minutes is not a long time so make sure you condense your message to fit the time frame.
- b. Your presentation should focus only on the key aspects of the paper. Please practice!
- c. You will find that you need very few slides.
- d. Be prepared for your presentation to be cut-short by the session chair if you go over time.

ENVIRONMENTAL AND RESOURCE ECONOMICS (ERE) –

EAERE OFFICIAL JOURNAL

www.eaere.org/journals/ere/

This initiative will promote fora for discussions, informing and involving people, showcase data, mapping the main problems and identify goals with the final ambition of possibly proposing solutions.

EAERE works towards organizing hybrid conferences, which aim at greater inclusiveness and smaller environmental footprint. In Autumn 2022 a Committee on EAERE Conference and events Sustainability - <https://www.eaere.org/committee-on-sustainability-and-eaere-conferences/> was created, having the mandate to discuss issues related to the sustainability of the EAERE Annual Conferences, such as the management of the conference logistics, the design of incentives to good sustainability behaviour by participants, the criteria for selecting the conference organiser and location, etc.

EAERE is a member of the World Council of Environmental and Resource Economists Associations (WCEREA) - <https://www.eaere.org/wcere/>, a coordinating organization whose members are AAERE, AERE, EAERE and AFAERE.
